

Leave It At The Altar

Rebecca Locklear/BMI

Verse I

I don't understand this valley that I'm in.
I need someone to talk to
Lord, I really need a friend.
I can't change my situation
You know I've tried
You know my heart you know my thoughts
You've seen every tear I've cried
So today, I cast my cares on you
I trust you Lord
I know you'll see me through

Chorus

I'm gonna lay it down and leave it at the altar
Not going to pick it up and bring it back this time
I'm gonna lay it down and leave it at the altar
While I wait on you, Lord, give me peace of mind
I'm gonna lay it down and leave it at the altar

Verse II

Lord you know I want my loved ones to be saved
I pray for their salvation
Each and every day
I can't make them accept you
You know I've tried
You know my heart you know my thoughts
You've seen every tear I've cried
So today, I cast my cares on you
I trust you Lord
I know you'll see them through

Repeat Chorus with: I'm gonna lay them down and leave them at the altar

Bridge

You know my heart, you've seen the tears I've cried
So, I'm calling out to you Lord one more time.

Repeat Chorus
